1. The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1) as  $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$ . It is shown that the solutions of the system (1) converge to the solutions of the system (2) as  $\epsilon \rightarrow 0$ . The convergence is uniform on compact subsets of the domain  $\Omega$ .

Figure 1. The effect of the concentration of the Agrobacterium suspension on the transformation efficiency of Agrobacterium strains. The Agrobacterium strains were grown in YEA medium for 24 h at 28°C. The cell concentration was adjusted to 10<sup>8</sup> cells/ml. The cell suspension was mixed with the plant tissue and incubated for 24 h at 28°C. The plant tissue was then cultured on the selective medium. The transformation efficiency was determined as the number of transformants per 100 mg of plant tissue. The data are the mean ± SD of three independent experiments.

(CHAL)

ORDERING:

WHEREAS, lately in the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Oklahoma, before you, or some of you in a cause between United States of America, Plaintiff, and Clyde Lindsay, Defendant, No. 9389 Criminal, the judgment and sentence of the said District Court in said cause, entered on February 18, 1939, was in the following words, viz:

"It is by the court

"Ordered and adjudged that the defendant, having been found guilty of said offenses, is hereby committed to the custody of the Attorney General for imprisonment in an institution of the penitentiary type to be designated by the Attorney General or his authorized representative for the period of

Count One - Five (5) Years

Count Two - Five (5) Years. Said sentence of confinement in Count Two shall begin at the expiration of said term consecutively to the sentence imposed in Count One.

"It is further ordered that the clerk deliver a certified copy of this judgment and commitment to the United States Marshal or other qualified officer and that the same shall serve as the commitment hereof."

And the above order entered on June 25, 1942, denying motion to correct judgment and vacate sentence was in the following words, viz:

"It is, therefore, ordered, adjudged and decreed that said motion to correct judgment and vacate sentence filed on June 5, 1942, by said Clyde Lindsay, should be and the same is hereby denied, and a certified copy of this order should be furnished by the clerk of this court to said Clyde Lindsay."

as by the inspection of the transcript of the record of the said District Court, which was brought into the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, Tenth Circuit, by virtue of an appeal by Clyde Lindsay, agreeably to the act of Congress, in such case made and provided, fully and at large appears;

AND WHEREAS, at the March Term, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-three, the said cause came on to be heard before the said United States Circuit Court of Appeals, on the transcript of the record from said District Court and was argued by counsel.

On consideration whereof, it is nowhere ordered and adjudged by this court that the judgment and sentence of the said District Court in this cause be and the same is hereby affirmed; and that United States of America, appellee, have and recover of and from Clyde Lindsay appellant, its costs herein.

-- March 16, 1943.

You, therefore, are hereby commanded that such proceedings be had in said cause, as according to right and justice, and the laws of the United States ought to be had, the said appeal notwithstanding.

1. The first step in the process of identifying a problem is to define the problem. This involves identifying the symptoms of the problem and determining the scope of the problem. Once the problem has been defined, the next step is to identify the causes of the problem. This involves identifying the factors that are contributing to the problem and determining the underlying causes of the problem. Once the causes of the problem have been identified, the next step is to develop a plan to address the problem. This involves identifying the actions that need to be taken to address the problem and determining the resources that will be needed to implement the plan. Once a plan has been developed, the next step is to implement the plan. This involves taking the actions that have been identified in the plan and putting them into practice. Finally, the last step in the process is to evaluate the results of the plan. This involves determining whether the plan has been successful in addressing the problem and identifying any areas for improvement.
